2025-2026学年第一学期浙江省名校协作体试题高三英语读后续写

思路引导与语料开发

编者按

25年9月浙江高三名校协作体的读后续写，考察了一个“狗狗救人”的故事。文本有相当大一部分笔墨都在刻画“狗狗Bear的特点”，以及狗狗和Perkinses一家人的相处日常。其中，Bear和Perkinses家的小儿子Mike，相处最融洽。文本很大的一个特点就在于文本的很多内容都是无法echo到我们的写作部分的。比如我换句话说，如果这篇续写的文本只取用最后两段和最开始狗狗人设的设定（保卫家庭），也就是“父母外出，三姐弟游玩坠湖”+“两个姐姐爬上岸，狗狗也脱险”，其实也不影响我们推出“狗狗救人”的情节走向。这样的续写，就非常考察我们平时的背诵量，考察重点就完全落在“description”上了，而现如今的高考续写文本几乎可以说“文本的每一段都在为我们的写作服务”，更加考察的是学生如何基于文本信息展开对于一个故事的叙述，更加需要我们去深入理解文本。

简单概括来说，笔者认为本次高三协作体的续写，可以算是词汇复杂版的“入门级续写”——在“立意”和“情节发展”上都比较落后于现在的续写理念，很像读后续写这个题型“诞生之初（大概是2020年之前）”会考的的内容。这样的故事，我们只需要把“场景”罗列出来，在这个场景上具体细化就可以了。比如这篇续写的第一段写的是Mike快掉入水里，那么我们就需要思考Mike现在的状态是什么样的，什么时候掉到水里？以及这个过程中，其他人是什么反应？这一系列的动作，应该如何细化呢？那我们的讲评重点，就回归到“续写”这个题型诞生之初不可跳过的一个概念，“动作链”。

动作链就是一连串紧密衔接的动作，让读者跟着角色的身体节奏一起走。它强调的是“连续”和“因果”。比如，我们来看这个句子：Mike slipped and fell into the river. Desperately, he struggled to swim but failed. 乍一看好像还蛮好的，动作和情绪都照顾到了。但用动作链的视角来看，这个句子就是典型流水账。我们一点点来分析。首先，“slipped and fell”是一个压缩动作。这是一个新概念，我们来理解一下。压缩动作，简单来讲就是把一个完整的动作过程简化成一个短语或一个动词组，跳过了中间细节和过程。我们去想象一下这个动作真实发生时的场景，是不是可以把“slipped and fell”拆解成“脚打滑 → 身体失衡 → 手挥舞 → 身体扑倒 → 入水”这一整串的过程。这些我们都是可以去展开描写的，否则读者知道发生了“掉水”，但脑子里没有“掉水的镜头”。但大家也要注意，压缩动作不一定不好，它在需要“快进”或“过渡”时有用，要不然全篇都是细致描写，读者读起来也会很累。但如果你想营造临场感，就要把压缩动作解开，让动作链条一环扣一环。再来看后面那个句子，“struggled to swim”又是一个单独的动作，没有和前面的“落水”形成自然的延续感。这就是典型的流水账写法，“做了A，再做了B”，但你的读者不知道是如何做的。

不过笔者看完了这次的部分高分作文以后，也产生了一些新的想法：这篇续写放在五六年前的浙江高考阅卷舞台，我们也许只需要简单地完成动作链的展开，就基本上完成写作任务了。(这有点像现如今的非

2. 忽略了主人公的年纪设定，强行给人物添加一些“老成”的描写。这个故事的三个小孩，最大的八岁，最小的三岁，都还是小朋友。而很多人在写作最后，强行去通过 Mike 的口吻，去写一些非常“老成”的话，去感谢 Bear 对自己的救援。我们在刻画这三个小孩子的时候，一定要贴着人家的“人设”写，比如你真的要在结尾去写 Mike 的语言，你可以这样：When Mike finally found his strength, he held his friend in the warmest embrace ever. “You saved me, Bear! Good dog, best dog!” 很简单的几个单词，就完成了儿童对话的刻画，很贴合人物的设定。

3. 当续写中出现多个人物合作一件事的时候，“分工”是很好的解决方案。这篇续写的两个姐姐，我们可以尝试在写作的过程中，将她们俩的职能分出来：一个在现场安慰 Mike，并提供精神援助；而另外一个，可以回家找救兵。当然，我们说到写作第一段也要为狗狗的登场去做铺垫，所以我们也可以给“狗狗”分工。比如也加入“精神援助组”。同样的思维方式，也可以用在 21 年 6 月新课标 I 卷的续写当中，大家有空的时候，可以翻出来练一练。

4. 自己埋的坑，但最后也没有填上。很多朋友在写作的第一段写了其中一个姐姐回去搬救兵，但到了写作第二段结束的时候，姐姐搬的救兵也没有出现，属于没有把自己挖的坑填上。这里也给到大家一个填坑的示范：

第一段埋一个伏笔：Hearts thumping like drumbeats, Martha yelled in a shaky kid-voice, “Mike, don’t let go—Sarah’s getting Mom and Dad! I’ll be with you, always!” The moment the words left her mouth Sarah shot off toward home, bare feet skimming the ground like a whirlwind.

第二段回应这个伏笔：Just then, alerted by their daughters, the parents arrived at the pond and were astonished to find Mike safe.

Bear was not a bear. She was a big dog on the Perkinses’ family farm, a woolly creature with floppy ears and paws like bedroom slippers. She protected the ducks and chickens from being eaten by foxes and raccoons(浣熊).

She guarded the children as well, watching over them as closely as she did the chickens and ducks. In winter the dog ran alongside the children as they sledded (滑雪橇) down snowy hills. In summer she swam with them in a nearby river.

Bear belonged to a breed (品种) that had long been used by Atlantic fishermen to help with their work, and it had a keen instinct for water rescue. When the children were in the river, the dog would swim in circles around them, barking when she felt they went out too far. She was the perfect farm dog—companion, guardian, protector.

The dog's favorite among the three children was three-year-old little Mike. They often curled up together. Sometimes Bear would doze while Mike pretended to read to her. Often both were sound asleep, a tangle of dark fur, blond hair, small hands and huge paws. At bedtime, Mike saved his last hug for Bear, his "best friend".

On a cold winter day, when their parents went out to send a parcel, eight-year-old Martha, seven-year-old Sara and Mike, went to slide on the frozen pond of their farm. Shouting happily, they slid back and forth, their boots gliding easily across the ice. They laughed as they watched Bear's attempts to stop suddenly, which would instead send her skidding beyond them. Then, tired, the three sat down on the ice, with Bear beside them. Suddenly the ice gave way under their combined weight.

As Bear jumped for shore, the three children fell into the freezing cold water. Screaming, Martha and Sarah struggled to find footing on rocks underwater. Branches from a tree nearby provided handholds, and using every bit of their strength, the two girls pulled themselves to shore.

Paragraph 1: Looking back, they saw little Mike holding on to a broken chunk of ice, unable to crawl onto it.

Paragraph 2: Seeing that, Bear let out a series of woofs and jumped into the water; heading straight for Mike.

场景一：Mike 落水的刻画——结合 Mike 本身的刻画、外物环境（比如冰面等）刻画、其他视角的叙述

6. he seemed to have lost the strength to hold on to the freezing chunk of ice.
7. The water was like thousands of pins, stinging both Mike's and the dog's bodies.

外部环境的刻画

1. the current spun him sideways

2. the river dragged him under again and again

3. the icy water bit into his skin like knives

4. the surface slipped farther from his grasp

那两部分如何整合在一起呢?

1. His hands scratched the ice desperately（先刻画 Mike 抓的动作，“动词+副词”是很基本的结构）, the chunk of ice shaking and tilting dangerously under his weight—half his body already in the cold water.（再通过外部环境的推动，写 Mike 的身体状态）

2. With his small, pump hands, he struggled to find handholds and hoist himself up, yet the slippery ice edges offered no solution. （Mike 本身的动作） With every breath, clusters of frost crystals formed around his ting mouth, as the reserved energy leaked out of him. （细节进一步展现 Mike 的状态）

场景二：大家对于 Mike 落水的反应——姐姐向他人求救、姐姐想办法援救（利用树枝）、小狗的行动等。

考场作文中，很多同学把两个姐姐刻画成了“坐以待毙”的热锅上的蚂蚁。笔者认为情有可原，毕竟两位姐姐年龄也不大。但是，我们可以把两位姐姐刻画得能动性更强一些，也让她们想办法救一救自己的弟弟。具体可以遵循“行为+结果”的写作思路——比如姐姐拿找树枝来救 Mike（行为），但最终没有成功做到（结果）。以下是考场作文的摘取，但比较遗憾的是，大家过分聚焦于“两个姐姐”的行为，而忽略了狗狗 Bear 的细节刻画，导致第二段引出 Bear 的救援非常突兀，这一点我们在 polished 版本的范文中做了一点补充。以下是考场作文中出现的片段：

1. 两个姐姐一起救援 Mike（行为+结果）

Martha and Sarah froze in horror for a split second（对 Mike 落水的反应，是一个简单的衔接）, then, hearing Mike’s terrified screams, began frantically searching for snapped branches that could sustain his weight.（到此为止，都是两个姐姐的行为） Their search, however, proved to be in vain. Simultaneously, Mike’s hold on the ice began to weaken, his fingers slipping.（结果，两个姐姐的救援失败）

2. 两个姐姐分工，一个鼓励，一个回家找救生衣。缺点在于“找救生衣”的行为略微不妥，不如直接处理成找家长。

(1) Hearts thumping like drumbeats, Martha yelled in a shaky kid-voice, “Mike, don’t let go—Sarah’s getting the life-jacket! I’ll be with you, always!” The moment the words left her mouth Sarah shot off toward home, bare feet skimming the ground like a whirlwind.

(2) Desperate, the girls searched frantically for broken branches, poles—anything that could pull their beloved brother ashore. With a yelp at their success, they stretched out, yelling in urgent tones, “Come on, Mike! Grab this!”

场景三：衔接下一段的“that”，刻画事态的转折，比如冰面再也无法支撑 Mike，比如 Mike 沉入水中等

这里的反应刻画，依旧可以聚焦于“反应+结果”的框架。冰冷的水让 Mike 肌肉僵硬（反应），最终导致他脱力，掉入水中（结果）。

1. 因为水很冷+脱力，Mike 最终坠入水中

However, in the icy winter waters, Mike felt his muscles gradually go numb, robbing him bit by bit of the strength to hold on to the freezing chunk of ice.（冰水让他脱力→他抓不住冰块） With his grip finally loosened, he slid underwater with a huge splash.（掉入水中的结果）

2. 因为外部原因（比如水流变急）Mike 掉进水中

Unfortunately, with a strong and chill wind growling, Mike couldn't hold on anymore. In the horrified screaming of Martha and Sarah, little Mike, who was unable to swim, fell into the cold water.

3. Mike 还在挣扎，但是已经快坠入水中

He waved his arms, patted the surface of water, trying to cry for help, but was just choked by relentless water. His face went pale, and his eyes got red rims.

Paragraph 2: Seeing that, Bear let out a series of woofs and jumped into the water, heading straight for Mike.

场景 1：狗狗救援 Mike 的具体刻画：

怎么救援？是拖着，还是托着？涉及到完整的动作链刻画）以及，狗狗的 woofs，是否能够让 Mike 在情绪上有一定的缓解呢？

1. Bear let out a series of woofs and jumped into the water, heading straight for Mike
2. Bear dipped her paws in the water but instantly shivered at the bone-chilling cold
3. She paddled hard, sending up small splashes around her
4. Her body cut through the icy water, ears flattened against the chill
5. She plunged in, tail stiff, eyes locked on Mike

水中行进

1. Her strong, woolly figure cut its trail effortlessly through the complex terrain of ice and freezing water
2. With agile movements born of her “water” dog blood, she paddled swiftly towards her helpless angel, navigating fragments of broken ice and slicing through the freezing water

3. Paddling her feet and swinging her big body, Bear strained every effort to dash toward little Mike

4. The slipper-like paws splashing away the floating ice, the strong beast opened a passageway through the newly-frozen water to her beloved master

5. Her huge paws paddling the freezing water steadily, the dark-furred creature cut through the ripples straight toward Mike's sinking figure

救援动作

1. She braced herself beneath him, letting him balance on her back

2. Just as Mike was about to sink, Bear dived below him and rose above the surface, carrying him on her back

3. Upon reaching the boy, she gave a blissful woof, ducked underwater, and carried the boy securely on her furry back.

4. She adjusted her posture, kept Mike's nose and mouth out of the water, and steered him to the shore.

5. The keen instinct for water rescue flowing in his blood, the capable guardian swam behind his little owner, lifted and supported him against the big trunk of ice, swimming and pushing the "boat" to the pond shore.

6. She swam swiftly to him, and reached out her strong paws, signaling Mike to grab her.

7. Cautiously she lifted him, settled him on her back, and climbed onto the shore with all her might.

8. She drew nearer and nearer, then finally nudged the little boy gently toward the shore, carrying the hope of life.

整个动作链摘抄+分析

Her strong, woolly figure cut its trail effortlessly through the complex terrain of ice and freezing water, occasionally letting out a few shudders in the cold winter temperature. （把 Bear 的身体动作和环境结合起来，交代环境难度）Mike's hands flapped desperately at the water, sending up smaller splashes as his strength faded. （镜头转向 Mike，推动 Bear 的下一个动作：通过吠叫鼓励 Mike 坚持住） Seeing this, Bear let out a series of loud, encouraging barks with an unmistakable tone of anxiety, and started pedaling twice as fast with her paws.（镜头回到 Bear，她一边鼓励 Mike，一边加快行动） Just as Mike was about to sink, Bear dived below him and rose above the surface, carrying him on her back. （临界时刻，张力最大化，完成整个动作链条的刻画）

场景 2：在救援过程中，Mike 的反应，姐姐等人的反应？（考场中能想到的不多）

1. Almost moved to tears in immense relief, Martha shouted her gratitude at Bear at the top of her voice as Bear steadily carried Mike back onto shore.

2. Back on shore, the girls hopped up and down in relief and irresistible elation as Bear swam back, her slipper-like paws hitting the water, creating a melody of safety and joy.

3. Only when Mike—trembling violently but wide awake—climbed onto the steady shore did Martha and Sarah let out sighs of relief.

1. 父母正好回来： Just then, alerted by their daughters, the parents arrived at the farm and were astonished to find Mike safe. Evidently, it was Bear that had saved their son's life.

2. 姐姐们自己给 Mike 取暖： Martha and Sara helped pull Mike up together. They sent Mike home, warmed him up, changed his wet clothes, and luckily Mike was none the worse.

3. Mike 伤势不大，自己醒来： Fortunately Mike soon warmed up; when he finally opened his eyes he mumbled, "You saved me, Bear," and gave her a tight hug. Tears rushed from both sets of eyes. It was truly a miracle.

1. When Mike finally found his strength, he held his friend in the warmest embrace ever. "You saved me, Bear! Good dog, best dog!" (结合三岁小孩子的特点刻画语言) Bear woofed(回扣段首句), knowing she's not just a dog, but Mike's guardian, companion, and protector（回扣原文）.

2. Fortunately, Mike was not hurt and flailed his hands toward his friend（交代故事的结局）. Bear pounced on Mike and clutched him tightly（通过狗的"动作"，侧面交代出两者的关系亲密）. For sure, both were happy and cheerful—a tangle of dark fur, blond hair, small hands, and huge paws（将人和狗的身体特征交融在一起写，写他们的和谐相处）.

3. Minutes later, Mike lay in the ward, the whole household clustered around him, praying for his narrow escape.(交代故事的结局, Mike 被送到医院) Bear was there too, proving herself the perfect companion, guardian, and protector.（回扣原文）

4. It was truly a miracle. After this episode the hearts of the two best friends drew even closer, and Bear once again proved herself the perfect farm dog—companion, guardian, and protector.（回扣原文）

5. For sure, Bear was not a true bear, but she "beared" the miracle of how an average dog could be companion, guardian, and protector to her beloved one.（利用 bear 的其他词性含义来升华）

6. Mike lay against Bear's belly, breathing, and coughed out a sigh of relief. "If it hadn't been for Bear's protection, I would have died." With her paws entwined tightly in Mike's hands, the little guardian had written a warm story despite the freezing winter.（用 paws 来升华）

7. On the way home, Mike fell asleep on his companion and protector's back, (继续回扣 bear 很巨大的特点, Mike 都可以睡在他背上） their dark fur and blond hair, small hands and huge paws tangling once again.

Paragraph 1: Looking back, they saw little Mike holding on to a broken chunk of ice, unable to crawl onto it. That slim figure, once so active and a little mischievous, now looked tragically vulnerable. As his trembling hands began to slip, the two girls screamed and rushed forward, only to hear more sharp cracks beneath their feet. Even worse, with the current growing fiercer, the chunk of ice to drift unsteadily. At that moment, Bear seized a branch, and the sisters hurled it toward their brother with all their might. But the water's roar drowned out Mike's cries, and also his strength. At last, poor Mike lost his grip. His small body slowly sank into the deep abyss of the pond, as if a monster were swallowing the child.

Paragraph 2: Seeing that, Bear let out a series of woofs and jumped into the water, heading straight for Mike. Her fur was totally drenched, but she never slowed her pace. Driven by the instinct of a water rescuer, the capable guardian swam behind her small owner, carefully lifting and supporting him against a large chunk of ice. She then began to push this "makeshift raft" toward the shore. As soon as they reached the bank, the two girls checked on Mike, gently patted his cheeks, and wrapped him in a warm hug. Mike, thankfully unharmed, reached out his hands to his guardian angel. Bear pounced on him. It was a tangle of dark fur, blond hair, small hands, and huge paws. Bear proved herself once again, a true companion, guardian, and protector.
